

Empowerment Package - Practical training & tools for setting up sensory & messy play sessions for your group.

(Suitable for: SEN groups, mixed ability or sibling groups)

This package will provide multiple practical training workshops, as-well-as receiving a personalised group specific planning format to help empower you to plan, set up or run your own safe sensory and messy play sessions within your setting.

This package hopes to provide an overview of the theory of how we learn, application of theory to SEN children with practical examples & guidance for how to plan your own messy or sensory play sessions to fulfil all the individual needs within your group. This package aims to inspire you & empower confidence when planning sensory or messy play sessions, however, it will not provide a full in-depth teaching knowledge & is currently not accredited with any formal qualification.
